

Time With God

Penrose House Conference Center
1661 Mesa Ave, Colorado Springs, CO 80906

Jesus modeled for us the necessity of getting away to spend time with His Father. Today, we are invited to do the same. The time set aside is sacred and, as such, is a holy space and an opportunity to commune with God and He with you.

You are invited to a sacred space, a space of safety, and, if you choose a space where you may share what God is saying specifically to you, as well as being a witness to that space of grace with each other. This is called Holy Listening.

Living in today's culture, words are often communicated that insist on being heard, sharing personal opinions, or even seeking to change the minds of those around us. But in this type of environment (Time with God), we do not wish to take on the role of the Holy Spirit. As such, we refrain from our opinions, politics, complaints, or anything else that may detract from the active work of God. Holy listening has no agenda and prayerfully seeks to understand without preconceived notions or a predetermined response. Holy listening invites the presence of the Holy Spirit.

I have only attended one of Kim Davis's "Time With God" sessions at Penrose House. However, it was such an enriching experience that I have signed up to attend the next four sessions. I love to experience God through His creation and The Penrose Mansion is a peaceful place to see the beauty of creation. I sensed the Lord's loving presence and received the impression that the majesty of this man-made home is only a small echo of the majestic beauty God has created for us to enjoy with Him in Heaven someday. I cherish and look forward to these nourishing and refreshing times with God. - JK

I have attended "Time With God" and have been amazed at the impact it made upon my life. I spend precious hours with Him, but this is different; there are no distractions. This is going away to Him and finding a distinct reality of God's presence that is away from all that is familiar. -AT
